Principal’s News

Thank you to everyone who helped Bullarah PS students celebrate Education Week at our Botswana Luncheon. The students and staff had a fabulous time sharing all of the great work students have completed for this unit. It was tremendous to see how many community members and parents attended this special occasion.

Students have also sat University Mathematics and Reading exams over the past few weeks. It has been very positive for our younger students to experience how formal testing is completed in school. A big congratulations to all students who tried very hard.

Tomorrow students will be travelling to Moree to link with other small schools for John Heffernan and Gay Chapman’s author visit at Moree Public School. Please remember students will be able to bring money to purchase morning tea.

Next week Miss Tasmin Quirk will join us at Bullarah for her 4 week teaching practicum. Miss Quirk is currently in her second year of learning how to be a teacher at the University of New England in Armidale and is very keen to be coming to our small school. Please take the time to introduce yourself and make her feel welcome.

Finally a huge thank you to Mrs Tempe Onus for organising her international visitor Giulio to come and have a chat to students about Italy and Venice. Students thoroughly enjoyed learning about another country and really liked the opportunity to ask a variety of questions about Rome and the Pompeii.

As always thank you for your continued support,

Kind Regards,
Pete Baum

A huge thank you to Moree Rural Fire Service for visiting our school.

A clear highlight of the day was the fantastic food and the student presentation of their work.

A huge thank you to Mrs Hayne and Mrs Winter for organising the catering and to Lee Traynor for her BBQ skills.
